

Being in an enclosed, confined space within an aircraft, argues against the use of cell-phones aboard an airborne aircraft. Cellular phone users would disturb those around them and make cabin conditions very noisy. Given the wide use of these phones, such use on an aircraft would be invasive to everyone aboard.